Art Unit: 2613

1. This communication is responsive to applicant's 4/11/2011 amendments and remarks.

The amendments have been entered. Claims 1-2, 5-7, 9-10, 13-15, and 17-23 are now pending.

Election/Restrictions

2. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

I. Claims 1-2, 5-7, 9-10, 13-15, drawn to optical timing and switching system, classified in class 398, subclass 45.

II. Claims 17-23, drawn to optical signal pulse transmission and reception, classified in class 398, subclass 214.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different designs, modes of operation, and effects (MPEP § 802.01 and § 806.06). In the instant case, the different inventions I and II are unrelated because Invention I is related to an optical timing system through which optical pulses propagate, wherein optical timing system asserts an electronic signal according to propagation of optical pulses through the timing system, and wherein a first and second optical waveguides are coupled to the timing system, and an optical switch directs pulses to the first or to the second waveguide. Invention II is related optical signal transmission and detection system, wherein a first optical waveguide is subdivided into a plurality of segments, each segment defining an optical path for a train of optical pulses, and a detector that is coupled to respective segments of the waveguide to issue a signal upon detecting a pulse traversing the segment. Inventions I and II are different because Invention I does not require a pulse detector that is coupled to respective terminal portions of segments of the first optical waveguide to issue a signal upon detection of a pulse traversing each segment, wherein the pulse received at the pulse detector and the signal from the pulse detector have a second frequency that is multiple of a first frequency, wherein the multiple depends on the number of segments of the first optical waveguide.

3. Restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper because all these inventions listed in this action are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious search and/or examination burden if restriction were not required because at least the following reason(s) apply:

- a) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter;
- b) the inventions require a different field of search (for example, searching different classes/subclasses, or electronic resources, or employing different search queries);
- c) the prior art applicable to one invention would not likely be applicable to another invention.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

4. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to M. R. SEDIGHIAN whose telephone number is (571)272-3034. The examiner can normally be reached on 9 to 5:30.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Kenneth Vanderpuye can be reached on (571) 272-3078. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 571-273-8300.
